

Parsons Awarded Position on $15 Billion U.S. Air Force Comprehensive Construction & Engineering Contract

December 18, 2025

CHANTILLY, Va., Dec. 18, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Parsons Corporation (NYSE: PSN) announced today that the company was awarded a seat on the U.S. Air Force Comprehensive Construction & Engineering Multiple Award Task Order Contract (MATOC). Managed by the Air Force Civil Engineering Center (AFCEC), this $15 billion ceiling value contract will ensure the readiness and resilience of U.S. Air Force and Department of War facilities. Work will be performed globally, with an initial five-year ordering period and five one-year options.

Under this contract, Parsons will compete for task orders to deliver a wide range of services to support the design and construction management of new facilities, as well as the maintenance, renovation, and restoration of existing infrastructure.

"We remain committed to delivering the technology and expertise in support of the U.S. Air Force and its continued efforts to enhance the resilience and operational readiness of our nation's military installations," said Jon Moretta, president, Engineered Systems for Parsons. "Our inclusion in this contract underscores Parsons' long-standing partnership with the Air Force and highlights our proven capability in providing innovative, mission-critical solutions to the Department of War."

The contract's scope encompasses various projects, including administrative facilities, airfields, utilities, and other critical infrastructure. This work supports mission readiness by enhancing facilities like runways, power systems, water treatment plants, and communications networks, ensuring military installations meet modern operational demands.

The company provides infrastructure solutions and all-domain support that enhances operational readiness and helps ensure mission success. This MATOC positions Parsons for continued USAF work, in addition to contracts awarded in 2025. In April, the company announced it was awarded a seat on the $1.5 billion AFCEC Environmental Services Contract addressing PFAS.
